

Susan Campbell Bio

Susan Campbell arrived in Fairbanks, Alaska in 1989 and found home. An avid outdoor adventurer, her experiences in wild places are often fuel for her poems. A curious explorer and ardent learner, she taught elementary school for over three decades. She often creates handmade artist books as homes for her poems. The Alaska State Museum and the University of Alaska Rasmuson Rare Book Collection house her work. She has been an Artist in Residence in Denali National Park and received an Alaska Literary Award from the Alaska Arts and Culture Foundation. Her poems have appeared in various journals and in 2026, Red Hen Press/Boreal Books published her debut book of poetry, This Far North.
