

Erin Coughlin Hollowell Bio

Erin Coughlin Hollowell is a poet and writer who lives at the end of the road in Alaska. Boreal Books published her full-length poetry collections Pause, Traveler (2013) and Every Atom (2018). Her third collection Corvus and Crater was published by Salmon Poetry in 2023. She has been awarded two Rasmuson Foundation Fellowships, a Connie Boochever Award, and an Alaska Literary Award. She was appointed full-time executive director of Storyknife in 2018.