

David Stevenson Bio

David Stevenson is the author of six books, including a fiction collection, Letters from Chamonix (2014), and Securing the Shadows, forthcoming from Torrey House Press in early 2027. His nonfiction has been noted twice in the Best American Essays series. He has served as the book reviews editor of The American Alpine Journal for over three decades and is a two-time winner of the Banff Mountain Book Award. He taught at many universities, including the University of Alaska Anchorage where he directed the MFA program in creative writing for fourteen years. He lives with his wife on the central coast of Oregon.