

Laura Lancaster Bio

Laura Lancaster writes short stories and plays from a dry cabin in Fairbanks, Alaska. She's traveled to 25 countries to date and writes about her experiences. She's a regular entrant in the Annual Statewide Creative Writing Contest. Her travel writing was honored in 2023 and a short science fiction story won first prize in the open to the public fiction category in 2025. Two of her short plays were selected for staged readings at the 8x10 Festival of New Alaskan Plays.