

George Bryson bio

George Bryson is a journalist who worked for the Anchorage Daily News for 30 years -- as a reporter, a Washington correspondent, a magazine writer and editor of We Alaskans. He holds an MFA degree in creative writing and has taught courses in journalism and literary nonfiction at both UAA and UAF. He's co-authored books on natural science and Alaska history and served as the longtime organizer of the University of Alaska /Anchorage Daily News Creative Writing Contest. Since retiring from the newspaper, George has traveled extensively -- by motorcycle, bike, boat and foot. He and his wife Ann have three grown daughters.