

Rodger Painter bio

Rodger Painter's Alaska roots run deep, with Alutiq, Athabascan, Russian and gold rush influences. He was president of the Moose Pass Public Library for about six years and served on the board of the Seward Community Foundation. Painter was very active in the Alaska seafood industry for most of his adult life. He now lives in Juneau.