

Page Brannon bio

Page Brannon is an Associate Professor at the University of Alaska Anchorage's Consortium Library. She has served as the Head of Instruction and Research Services since 2006. Page has been an Alaska Center for the Book Board (ACB) member and volunteer for many years. She's in her sixth year of serving in a leadership role with the ACB Board. She started reading JRR Tolkien's works at a very young age. Tolkien is one of her favorite authors.